

UCD University Club, O'Reilly Hall

UCD University Club was developed to provide University staff, corporate clients and the community with a first-class social engagement setting, complemented by the excellent existing conference event facilities of O'Reilly Hall. This project comprised of the construction of a two-storey extension with a single storey enclosed roof plant area.

The extension incorporates private dining areas, lounge areas, fully functional kitchen, toilet block, and small office areas etc. The reconfiguration to the existing O'Reilly Hall includes new staff facilities and a toilet block to the first-floor level and the removal of a staircase, with alterations to the ground floor area surrounding the existing kitchen.

Client
University College Dublin

Architect
Scott Tallon Walker

Value
£8.2 million

